COLUMBUS, OH – December 4, 2024 - Gryphon Financial Partners is pleased to announce that CJ Saunders will be joining their Columbus, Ohio, office as a Wealth Management Advisor. CJ spent the past few years as a football player in the National Football League, most recently with the Atlanta Falcons in 2023, and before that, two seasons with the Carolina Panthers. Prior to that, he played college football at the Ohio State University, earning a bachelor’s degree in accounting and a master’s degree in Sports Management.

In his new role at Gryphon, CJ will specialize in investment strategies, retirement planning, and wealth management for athletes, professionals, and business owners. He understands the unique challenges that athletes and high-net-worth individuals face and is committed to providing personalized financial solutions that align with their goals.

“Gryphon really stuck out to me for one main reason: culture.” Throughout my years as a professional and collegiate athlete, culture was something that was talked about daily. It is the single most important aspect of any championship organization,” says Saunders. “It was apparent to me that Gryphon emphasizes and lives out many of the same key values that have made me successful playing football and in life.

Joel Guth, CEO and Founder of Gryphon, stated, “We welcome CJ and look forward to a very successful working relationship. CJ walked on as a football player at Ohio State, earned a full athletic scholarship, and then played in the NFL.
